Philadelphia Academy.

SAMUEL MAGAW, D. D.
Rector of St. Paul's church and formerly Vice-Provost of the University of Pennsylvania,
AND
JAMES ABERCROMBIE, A.M.
One of the Assistant Ministers of Christ church and St. Peter's,
INTEND TO OPEN,
On Tuesday the 15th of next month, (April)

An Academy,

CONSISTING OF,

1. AN English School, in which will be taught Reading, Writing, English Grammar, Composition, Elocution, and Natural History.

2d. A Mathematical School, in which will be taught Writing, Arithmetic, Mercantile Accounts, Geography and the use of the Globes, Geometry and Trigonometry, with their application to Mensuration, Surveying, Navigation, Nautical Astronomy, &c.—Also, the Principles of Mechanics, Algebra and Fluxions.

3d. A Classical School, in which will be taught the Latin and Greek Languages, in conjunction with Chronology, Civil History, Rhetoric, and the Institutes of Moral Science.

A well grounded conviction of the expediency of the foregoing plan, has been our principal inducement to undertake it. When it is considered that this populous and flourishing Metropolis contains only one Public Institution on an extensive plan, and that many of our youth are obliged to resort to other States, to receive even a Grammar-School Education, the Seminary now proposed, will, we trust, be regarded as eminently useful.

Actuated by these considerations, many gentlemen, friends to Science, and to Literary Establishments, have urged, with great warmth, the present undertaking, and excited the most flattering expectations of its success.

Thus encouraged by the countenance and promised aid of liberal men, no less than by a firm persuasion that well-regulated Academies have a most important influence upon manners, habits, and principles; it will be our earnest endeavor so to conduct this Seminary of Learning, as to subserve the great Interests of Religion and Morality, to promote Decorum of Behaviour, Correctness of Taste, Liberality of Sentiment, and every other attribute of an ingenuous mind, which, in connection with good principles, and sound literature, constitute the distinguished ornaments of the gentleman, and the scholar.

The building, engaged for this Academy, though affording excellent accommodation, will be relinquished for a more central situation, if such a change should be found necessary.

A master of distinguished abilities will be procured to conduct the Mathematical Department.

Persons desirous to be employed as TUTORS in this Seminary, are requested to apply, without delay, to either of the subscribers, to whom also Parents wishing to send their children, will please to make application.

Foreign Intelligence.

LONDON, February 3.

The moſt poſitive advices have been received at Vienna and Ratiſbon, that 30,000 Ruſſians, as an auxiliary corps, two thirds infantry and one third cavalry, are now marching in three columns towards Bohemia. The Ruſſian army now quartered in Bohemia will be increaſed to 70,000 men. Thus a freſh army of 100,000 Ruſſians will appear in the field early in the Spring, or perhaps ſooner, if circumſtances ſhould require it.

The Vienna Court Gazette of the 4th inſt contains an official relation of the occurrences in Italy, down to the 23d Dec. by which it appears that the French, inſtead of having gained ſome advantages, were forced to fly with the utmoſt precipitation to the walls of Genoa, many of ther troops, with a chief of brigade, being taken priſoners.

The Imperial army in Italy is to be completed to 150,000 men, and that of the Archduke it is ſuppoſed, will not be leſs than 200,000 men, which, together with 70,000 Ruſſians to act on the Rhine, and at leaſt 100,000 armed peaſants, who will give full employment to Buonaparte abroad, whilſt the Chouans, Vendeans, and a freſh Continental expedition of Anglo-Ruſſians may equally claim his attention.

The immenſe preparations making by the allies for the commencement of the enſuing campaign, may well ſtrike terror even into the daring heart of the bold Buonaparte, who to the augmented forces of the allies, has little more to oppoſe than the ſame reduced and diſpirited armies, who in the laſt campaign were beaten both in Italy and Germany. It is no wonder therefore that he ſhould be deſirous to obtain a temporary peace, when his military and pecuniary reſources are in ſuch a ſtate as muſt ſoon produce the ruin of his reputation, and with it of his power.

West India News.

KINGSTON, February 15.

Thurſday ſe'nnight the following meſſage from his honor the Lieutenant Governor, was communicated to the honourable Houſe of Aſſembly by his Secretary:

"Mr. Speaker,

"I am commanded by his honor the lieutenant governor, to acquaint you that the declaration of Martial Law, recommended by their meſſage of the 21ſt December laſt, and ſubſequent Council of War, induced him to take ſome ſtrong meaſures, attaching infinite reſponſibility to himſelf, but which he did not hefitate to aſſume, on the conviction that he was acting in accordance with the general wiſh of the iſland.

"That the Commander in Chief thought it adviſable to form into a corps, all thoſe able bodied French male negro ſlaves, who are competent to ſerve his Majeſty in a military capacity, out of this iſland; and his honour ventured to name to it, as officers, thoſe reſpectable gentlemen, who had ſo bravely and honourably ſignalized themſelves in his Majeſty's military ſervice in St Domingo; but who, by the evacuation of the Britiſh poſts, had been reduced to unmerited and unſpeakable diſtreſs:

"That the negroes ſo embodied amount to	400
"Negroes, who accompanied them but are unfit for military ſervice amount to	120
"Sent, during the period of the Martial Law to Cuba and the United States	100
"Sent to Trinidad, of all ages	350
"Collected at Fort Auguſta, on their way to Honduras Bay	6
Total	976

"That no male French negroes, or male French people of colour, exceeding twelve years of age can be found in this iſland, unleſs in direct contradiction to the General Orders iſſued during Martial Law.

"That all white perſons, who have failed in procuring the fulleſt teſtimonials of their good conduct, have left the iſland.

"That the Magiſtrates of Kingſton have ſanctioned the reſidence of 177 perſons in that town, who have been there employed in induſtrous and laudible purſuits.

"That the commander in chief has alſo in his poſſeſſion a report, very ably drawn up, and under the moſt reſpectable authorities, of all Frenchmen now reſident here of high condition and good conduct; or, perſons of good conduct, but of a lower condition in life: In this report, the ſituation, the connections and the profeſſions, of all thoſe who have been permitted to remain in the iſland, are fully deſcribed, and can be reſorted to on any occaſion:

"That the numbers in this liſt amount to 222; which, with the 177, as above, makes the total 399.

"To this liſt ought to be added thoſe planters, and overſeers who are ſettled in the mountains and interior, having police tickets in due form, and ſince counterſigned by two magiſtrates in their neighbourhood."

In conſequence of the above queſtion, the following addreſs from the honourable houſe of aſſembly was, the next day, preſented to his honour the Lieutenant Governor:

May it please your honor,

We, his majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the aſſembly of Jamaica, beg leave to expreſs to your honor, the high ſenſe we entertain of the meritorious exertions which were employed by your honor, during the late martial law, to protect this iſland againſt the dangerous conſpiracy, which perſons ſpecially ſent by the agents of the French directory attempted to form; and to return your honor our ſincere and grateful thanks, for the unexampled aſſiduity and attention which you have paid to the valuable colony: we aſſure your honor, that if any circumſtance have obliged you to give orders, or make regulations, which can in any manner be deemed contrary to the exiſting laws of the iſland, we are fully convinced that ſuch conduct has originated from an anxious deſire, on the part of your honor, to provide for the ſecurity; and we are ready to give our ſanction to all ſuch meaſures."

To which his honor was pleaſed to return the following anſwer.

"Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen of the Aſſembly,

"I receive, with the moſt ſenſible ſatisfaction and gratitude, the compliment which you have been pleaſed to pay me in your addreſs.

"In diſcharging the various duties entruſted to my vigilance and care, my attention has ever been directed to the promoting the honor, the happineſs and the ſecurity of this valuable iſland.

"After five years arduous duty in your ſervice ſuch a diſtinguiſhed mark of your favor and approbation has filled the meaſure of my ambition, and placed me in a ſituation almoſt beyond my hopes to attain."

In compliance with an unanimous reſolution of the houſe immediately after the addreſs to his honor had been preſented, Mr. Speaker gave the thanks of the houſe to lieutenant general Taylor, in the following manner.

"Lieutenant General Taylor,

"I have at all times infinite pleaſure in the diſcharge of my duty, by an obedience to the orders of this houſe; but, upon no occaſion can the execution of ſuch orders give me greater ſatisfaction than at preſent, when I inform you, that your conduct during the late martial law has received the unanimous approbation of your country. I am ordered by the houſe Sir, to give you their thanks for your zealous and indefatigable ſervices during that period; and I do give you the thanks of the houſe accordingly."

To which Lieutenant General Taylor returned the following anſwer:

"Mr. Speaker,

PROPOSALS

By WILLIAM COBBETT,

For importing the following periodical publications:

1. The Britiſh Critick;
2. The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine;
3. The Gentleman's Magazine;
4. Le Mercure Britanique, or The Britiſh Mercury.

THE Britiſh Critick is a regular Review of all the works publiſhed in Great Britain; it is conducted with great impartiality and ability, and of the numerous publications of the kind which do now appear, and which have appeared in Great Britain; it is univerſally allowed to be the beſt.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine is as its title ſeems to indicate, rather more confined, as to the nature of its ſubjects, but it certainly is not leſs calculated for extenſive utility. This work is divided into four departments: 1 Original Criticiſm—2 A Review of the other Reviews—3 Occaſional Eſſays, in proſe and verſe—and 4th, A Monthly Summary of Hiſtory and Politics. Every ſix months it has a ſupplement, containing a review of foreign works, not forgetting thoſe of America. The Anti-Jacobin dwells leſs on ſubjects which are merely literary and ſcientifick, than on thoſe which have a more immediate influence on ſociety. With a bold and maſterly hand, it corrects the blunderings of error, traces the intricate windings of miſrepreſentation, and ſtrips off the maſk of hypocriſy. The avowed champion of the church and the ſtate, it ſpares the enemies of neither, whether open or ſecret; and, ſcorning the puſillanimous defenſive, upon which the friends of truth have too long acted, it carries on a continual and vigorous offenſive warfare againſt anarchy, immorality, and irreligion, and thus eſtabliſhes by its uniform conduct, its right to the title it has aſſumed.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Gentleman's Magazine, a work ſtamped with the approbation of three ſcore years, conſiſts chiefly, of communications from antiquaries and cultivators, and of original eſſays, in verſe and proſe written by the moſt learned and ingenious men in the kingdom, and embracing by turns, almoſt every ſubject intereſting to man. The miſcellaneous part of the work is followed by a ſelection of authentick foreign and domeſtick intelligence, including official reports, ſtate-papers, and an abſtract of the proceedings in parliament; next comes a very copious obituary, being not merely a liſt of deaths, but a valuable ſeries of biography; to which is added, a Meteorological Diary and Table, a Bill of Mortality for London and its environs, a table of the average prices of corn, and of the ſtocks, for every day in the month: So that this work muſt ever be an entertaining and uſeful companion, not only to thoſe who are of the learned profeſſions, commonly ſo called, but to the merchant, the farmer, and, in ſhort, to every man, whatever may be the ſubject of his ſtudy, or the object of his purſuit.

[Price 40 Cents.]

Le Mercure Britannique, or, Britiſh Mercury; by Monſieur Mallet Du Pan.—This work, of which one number is publiſhed every fortnight, in French and in Engliſh, commenced in Auguſt 1798, and is continued with encreaſing ſpirit and celebrity. It is both hiſtorical and critical; it contains a ſummary, and is the repoſitory, of all the important events, eſtabliſhed facts and public inſtruments, which relate to the preſent æra; it inveſtigates points of fact, of politics, and national rights; it extends its view over all the nations of Europe, examines the conduct and diſcloſes the motives of their reſpective courts; it is in ſhort a brief and comprehenſive hiſtory of the times, equally remarkable for the elegance of its ſtyle, the profundity of its remarks, and the ſoundneſs of its principles.

[Price 50 Cents.]

These four works compriſe every thing uſeful in the periodical way. Gentlemen may ſubſcribe for all, or for either, or them. The firſt order is intended to be ſent off on the 1ſt of May next; the ſucceſſive numbers will be received at New York in two months upon an average after, their publication in London, ſo that thoſe which are ſubſcribed for on or before the 1ſt of May, will be received in ſeptember; after which they will with very little irregularity, come to hand once a month, the importer having made ſuch arrangements as can not fail of ſecuring punctuality on the part of his correſpondents.

☞ Subſcriptions will be received from any part of America, by J. W. FENNO, Philadelphia. No advance is required. The prices are but four cents a number higher than in London.

AN AUTHOR'S EVENINGS.

ELOISA.

This romance, like the incoherence of Hamlet, has "method in madneſs." It is a jumble of philoſophy and love, and, though the author himſelf is againſt me, may be read by ſuſceptible fifteen without danger. Girls will comprehend but few of his pernicious ideas, except the firſt kiſs of love in the grove ſcene; and kiſſes and groves are abundantly familiar: no information on this ſubject can be given by Rouſſeau.

KINDNESS TO ANIMALS.

I wiſh I had known the author of the book of Tobit; I ſhould have ſhaken hands with him moſt cordially, and called him an honeſt fellow. He tells not only a tender ſtory of an amiable youth, but mentions his Dog. He did not diſtinguiſh with the dry preciſion of a naturaliſt whether the animal was a maſtiff or a ſpaniel; he ſtates a circumſtance from which one may infer that the dog was a faithful dog. Certes, kind hearted author, the mention of the houſehold animal did not ſully the gravity of thy page. If this be heterodoxy I am a ſinner; but I will retain my belief, if my lords, the biſhops, ſhould ariſe, and throw their bench at me.

YOUNG LYTTLETON.

In genius and vice a paragon. A heathen might fancy that his airy ſpirit, volatile as ſurrounding ether, ſometimes danced the hayes among the fine and tenuous forms in the planet Venus; and ſometimes inſinuated himſelf among the orators, or did penance among the phyſicians, in Mercury!

AN OLD BOOK

Reſembles an old cheeſe; it may have a dirty and worm eaten cover, but the inſide is often a tid bit. How much more wretched would my ſmall wares be than at preſent, gentle reader, if my preceptor had not pommelled me into the peruſal of old books. I peep into them now; and they are certainly better than even the neweſt pamphlet of Mr. Thomas Paine. I even prefer the travels of ſir John Mandeville. They are full of lies, it is true, but they are told pleaſantly. The novelties of Mr. Thomas Paine reſemble the above travels in only one particular.

RABELAIS.

This witty and voluptuous writer, flouriſhing in illiberal times, was doomed to write obſcurely. He was a jolly curate, ſitting in his arm chair, and thought it ſafe to flounder in the mud, knowing that ſhould the wings of his wit ſoar to the church and flap the clergy, he muſt dance before the fires of the inquiſition. He appears to underſtand thoroughly the veiled vices of the Friar and the nun, and writes like an experienced recluſe, who had kept other things in his dormitory, beſide a roſary and a crucifix!

UTILITY OF OCCASIONAL SECLUSION.

I have read through Zimmermann on ſolitude, and am well acquainted with that Dame, although I go but little into company. Few paſs more lonely hours than myſelf; and, notwithſtanding all the fine things ſaid about ſociety, I often find my own thoughts, few as they are, very pleaſant aſſociates. A recluſe has meat to eat, which the world knows not of. Seated in my wicker chair, I prefer a tranquil cigar to a noiſy reveller, and with a few books and papers on my table, paſs as rational evenings as though I had the honor to triſle with COQUETILLA, or drudge through all the meanders of a city ball.

Of late men have grown as gregarious, as ſheep, and it is a ſort of univerſal axiom that there is no enjoyment, except in a croud. But the fact is, we are too ſocial, at times, and conſume amid the jollity of wine, or the inſipidity of modiſh compliments, thoſe hours, which might be profitably ſpent in ſolitude. Old king David adviſes to commune with our own hearts on our beds, and be ſtill. This advice is as good in Philadelphia, as in Jeruſalem.

PHYSIOGNOMY.

I never read twenty pages in LAVATER, even in the abridged edition of his book, but I have my whims, when I peruſe the human face. Shakeſpeare talks ſome where of a "forehead, villainously low," and I always feel ſuſpicious, even of ſparkling eyes, if a very puny and ſnub noſe faintly appear underneath. The beſt phyſiognomy is where there is moſt intereſt and expreſſion. The latent diamond may be found among meaner pebbles: the glitter of genius is often ſeen amid the murkieſt features. Many countenances, when at reſt, are like a good landſcape obſcured by the ſhadows of twilight. Such faces, when lighted up by the glow of ſentiment, or the torch of fancy, are like the glory, in ſome of the pictures of the Italian ſchool, or like the bright viſage of the firſt chriſtian's Martyr, whoſe "face was, as it were, as the face of an angel."

MR. FENNO,

That the credit for invention is not due to the big Metaphor and far-fetched epithet Rhymists of the present day, the following fragment of an original Sonnet by Tom Thumb the great to his Mistress, will demonstrate, and therefore may prove an acceptable morceau both to your antiquarian and to your critical readers.

When Care all dolorous, wakes my soul from rest,
And tears in torrents amble down my breast,
O let me DAWDLE near some warbling shore
Where whispering storms and COOING BILLOWS roar,
Where love-lorn Whales their amorous pains express,
Their hopes and fears and plain of soft distress.
To the Wan Kraken, who, with bashful eye,
And pit-a-pating breast breathes sigh for sigh;

* * * * * * *
part obliterated by time.
* * * * * * *

If e'er I deign to ask of thee a kiss;
Should Hortensia straddle bilk the profered bliss,
Throwing astride on Pike of Teneriffe,
While, pelting clouds I drench with streamy grief.
While all of Etna burns within my heart
I'll gulp the Glaciers to assuage the smart.

[In frolicsome times it is useful to insist on the virtue of political obedience, and to require every soul to be subject to the higher powers. The following sentiments are from a man, who prefers sitting quietly on the forms of the Old School, to the Five headed, or three headed, or no headed Liberty of Abbe Sieyes and Apostate Talleyrand.]

"For there shall be sedition among men, and mutiny one against another; they shall not regard their kings, nor princes."

THE prophet Esdras, with great solemnity in his fourteenth chapter, describes himself sitting under an oak, and hearing "a tale of other times" from his Creator. The alarmed sage is assured that the world waxes old, and that its future woes will be in proportion to its imbecility. Much evil, moral and natural, is predicted, and this fearful anticipation is gloomily closed, by an assurance that, at length, all the links of subordination should be broken; that man should have no pity on his neighbour, and that there should ensue those periods of faction and war and that contempt of authority so energetically described in the text.

It should seem a great Tragedy of conspirators, of warriors, and of kings, is now acting on the European stage, and the stricts of Paris, the banks of the Rhine, and the classical temples of Italy, were scenes, in which men were seditious, and princes disregarded. It is an observation, nearly coeval with the world, that sovereigns, like the taller trees of the wood, are exposed to destruction, because exalted. Such conspicuous marks have, in all ages of the world, been aimed at by the archery of revolt, or the dagger of the assassin. But it was reserved for French perspicacity to discover that kings were necessarily worse than other men, and it was reserved for French steel to cut off heads, merely for being crowned. Liberty might urge Brutus and William Tell against their chief, fanaticism might cause Cromwell to sit in judgment on Charles, and Henry of Navarre to feel the knife of a desperado; but Liberty, Ambition and Zeal never clubbed their efforts against the kingly name till now. "Eternal hatred to royalty" is an oath not to be found in the digest of ERNULPHUS; but coined in the scburbs of St. Antoine, sanctioned by Marat, and repeated by fish-women, it is now a polite and fashionable mode of swearing, among twenty four millions of the new gentry of France!

In some of the historical parts of the Bible, we read occasionally, a narrative of the assassination of a prince of the house of Israel or Judah. But the sanguinary act was never committed from weariness of monarchy, or impatience of rule. It was a criminal man against whom assassination aimed arrows, and not a despised monarch.—In perilous pure and simple, like the primeval, men were submissive to the aged patriarch and the anointed king, and thought not of questioning the experience of the one, nor the right of the other. Hence no sedition and rarely invasions; hence a happy and quiet people. David, though he might cause the Ammonite to pass through the brick-kiln, was not called a despot, and his subjects never judged him from a revolutionary tribunal. I cannot discover that Jerusalem, like Lyons, was razed to the ground by the ancient assertors of equal rights. The invention of a guillotine to stop the prayers of the priest, the bodings of the prophet, or the mandate of a king was not contemplated by the Orientals. The lamp cord did not depend from the Jewish synagogues, and not a levite before the ark chanted a Marseillois hymn.

But in the enlightened eighteenth century, what prodigious discoveries have been made that there is no God and no government, but what the people can make. Hence Frenchmen are seditious, and regard not their kings nor princes. But both Esdras and more recent historians deplore such calamities, and the moderate men of ancient as well as modern times talk of revolution in a State, as of the earthquakes of Calabria, or the tornado of the Isles.

THE LAY PREACHER.

In a late record of a New York marriage we find the following application of four lines, from the celebrated elegy of Mr. JAGO, entitled "The Black Birds."

He led her to the nuptial bower,
And nestled closely to her side;
The fondest bridegroom of that hour,
And she the most delighted bride.

This is certainly a picturesque description of the attitude of the happy pair on the bridal night. But soft—this is a dangerous subject; for

"Higher far, and of the genial bed,
"With most mysterious reverence I deem."

A most elegant and melodious translation has just appeared, of The "Basia," or Kisses of SECUNDUS, the sweetest of the modern Latin poets, who, in singing the delights of Love, has combined the tenderness of TIBULLUS, the frolic of HORACE, and the warmth of OVID. The following is a specimen.

One kiss, enchanting maid, I cry'd;
One little kiss, and then adieu!
Your lips with lust are crimson dyed,
To mine with trembling rapture flew:
But quick these lips my lips forsake,
With wanton, tantalizing jest;
So starts from Rustic from the snake
Beneath his heedless fearstep prest:
Is this to grant the wish'd-for kiss?
Ah, no, my love,—'tis but to fire
The bosom with a TRANSIENT BLISS
Enflaming unallay'd desire

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, April 9.

Mr. Nicholas, from the Committee appointed to enquire into the expediency of making further provision for the widow and orphan children of Col. John Harding and orphan daughters of Major Alexander Trueman, deceased, reported a bill for that purpose, which was committed for to-morrow.

Mr. Marshall, from the committee to whom was referred the petition of William Tazewell, Esq. late Secretary of Elbridge Gerry, Esq. while one of the Envoys to Paris, made report, recommending the adoption of the following resolution, viz.

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives, &c. That in settling the account of William Tazewell, Esq. late Secretary of Elbridge Gerry, Esq. one of the Envoys to Paris, the Secretary of State be authorised to allow the expences incurred by him in consequence of his being captured on his return to this country.

The report was committed to a committee of the whole House, and made the order of the day for Monday next.

Mr. Leib presented a memorial of sundry merchants of the city of Philadelphia, complaining of the conduct of the measurers of salt and coal, in that port—Referred to the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures.

Mr. D. Foster, from the Committee of Claims, made a report on the petition of William Nichols, late marshal of the district of Pennsylvania, recommending to the house to adopt a resolution for the reimbursement of sundry sums of money paid by the petitioner to the jurors and and witnesses who attended the circuit court of the United States in Pennsylvania on the trial of the insurgents in the year 1795.

The report was committed to a committee of the whole house for to-morrow.

A message was received from the Senate, by Mr. Otis, their secretary, informing the house, that the Senate have passed the bill to alter and establish sundry post roads; with certain amendments, to which they request the concurrence of the house.

The house again resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the bill to authorize the President of the United States to accept for the United States, a cession of jurisdiction of territory west of Pennsylvania, commonly called the Western Reserve of Connecticut—Mr. Morris in the chair—and Mr. Elmendorf's amendment, to accept the jurisdiction only, being under consideration—Messr. Randolph and Nicholas spoke at length in favour of it; and Mr. Griswold against it—when the question was taken and negatived—ayes 34—noes 51.

Mr. Gallatin moved to amend the bill by inserting that nothing in the act should be construed to draw into question the settlement made between the states of Pennsylvania and Connecticut by the federal decree of Trenton, in 1783.

Mr. Bird and Mr. Sedgwick (Speaker) opposed the motion—and Messrs. Gallatin and Griswold supported it.

The motion was carried—ayes 62.

The committee then rose, and reported their agreement to the bill as amended—and it was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time to-morrow.—Adjourned.

OFFICIAL.

Extract of a letter from capt. Morris, of the frigate Adams, dated March 8.

"On my last cruize, which commenced on the 24th January, and expired on the 1st of March, I recaptured the American schr. Isabella, of and from Portland, bound to Trinidad, a prize to the French corvette Le Berceau: and captured three French privateers—the first Le Gembeau, a small boat, with 4 swivels and 19 men; the 2d, L'Heureuse, a schooner of 35 tons, 4 guns, and 50 men; she had taken two prizes, which reduced her to 29 men, threw 3 of her guns, boats, spare spars, &c. over in the chace.

"The other, the General Massena, of 30 tons, 6 guns and 49 men, 30 hours from Guadaloupe, had taken nothing; threw 4 guns and boat over in the chace."

COMMUNICATION.

A gang of persons, who disgrace the name of Frenchmen, are now pursuing the infamous practice of depriving unfortunate Negroes of their liberty, in the following felonious manner:—Whenever one of the party finds out the name of an emigrant French Negro, from the West-Indies, they immediately claim him as their property, have him committed to goal as a runaway, from whence he is shipped off to the Havanna, and sold for the benefit of the party, which consists of four persons, of whom John Potet is one, and who was a few days ago detected in trying this practice on a black man who had been two years employed by a citizen of Baltimore.—Should not a stop be put to such villainy;

N. B. The writer's name is left at this office. [Balt. Fed. Gaz.

NEW YORK, April 9.

Yesterday a pleasure boat was suddenly upset in the east river by a squall, and sunk. Two persons were saved by swimming till boats came to their relief—The other, Mr Thomas West, of this city was unfortunately drowned—He was a young man, and lately married.

[The brig Christian, Captain Chase, which arrived here on the fourth instant, came out under convoy of the Merrimack from Nevis. The latter parted with the fleet on the twenty seventh March, in lat. 25 long. 70—it is highly questionable whether she should beat up to the latitude of Cayenne in less than fifteen days, the tide-wind being always to eastward. From these circumstances we have a well grounded conviction that the report of the capture of the Merrimack is wholly destitute of truth.]

Yesterday arrived here the schooner Polly, Clift, of New-London, 28 days from Surrinam.

March 10—In lat. 12, long. 60, at night was boarded by the United States ship of war Maryland, then in chase of a French corvette brig, of 14 guns, which was not more than two miles a head. From their having sailed, in the course of 3 hours two miles to her one, there was not the least doubt of her soon becoming a prize to the Maryland.

March 25—In lat. 31 long. 72, spoke brig Randolph, Mumford, from Baltimore to Port-Republican.

March 29—In lat. 33, long. 72, saw a wreck, supposed to be a vessel of about 60 tons—blowing a gale, could not examine her.

SAMUEL MAGAW, D. D.
Rector of St Paul's church, and formerly Vice-Provost of the University of Pennsylvania,
AND
JAMES ABERCROMBIE, A. M.
One of the Assistant Ministers of Christ church and St. Peter's,
INTEND TO OPEN,
On Tuesday the 15th of next month, (April)

An Academy;

CONSISTING OF

1. AN English School, in which will be taught Reading, Writing, English Grammar, Composition, Elocution, and Natural History.

2d. A Mathematical School, in which will be taught Writing, Arithmetic, Mercantile Accounts, Geography and the use of the Globes, Geometry, or the elements of Euclid, Trigonometry, both Plane and Spherical, Mensuration, Gauging, Surveying, Navigation, in all its parts, Dialling, Conicsections, Fortification, Gunnery, Astronomy, Algebra and Fluxions, with their application to the different parts of Mathematics. This department will be conducted By MR. PETER DELAMAR, formerly Professor of Mathematics in the Royal Military and Marine Academy, Dublin—and latterly in THE FRIGATE UNITED STATES.

3d. A Classical School, in which will be taught the Latin and Greek Languages, in conjunction with Chronology, Civil History, Rhetoric, and the Institutes of Moral Science.

A well grounded conviction of the expediency of the foregoing plan, has been our principal inducement to undertake it. When it is considered that this populous and flourishing Metropolis contains only one Public Institution on an extensive plan, and that many of our youth are obliged to resort to other States, to receive even a Grammar-School Education, the Seminary now proposed, will, we trust, be regarded as eminently useful.

Actuated by these considerations, many gentlemen, friends to Science, and to Literary Establishments, have urged, with great warmth, the present undertaking, and excited the most flattering expectations of its success.

Thus encouraged by the countenance and promised aid of liberal men, no less than by a firm persuasion that well-regulated Academies have a most important influence upon manners, habits, and principles; it will be our earnest endeavor so to conduct this Seminary of Learning, as to subserve the great Interests of Religion and Morality, to promote Decorum of Behaviour, Correctness of Taste, Liberality of Sentiment, and every other attribute of an ingenuous mind, which, in connection with good principles, and sound literature, constitute the distinguished ornaments of the gentleman, and the scholar.

The building, engaged for this Academy, though affording excellent accommodation, will be relinquished for a more central situation, if such a change should be found necessary.

Persons desirous to be employed as TUTORS in this Seminary, are requested to apply, without delay, to either of the subscribers, to whom also Parents wishing to send their children, will please to make application.

FACTS

Submitted to public consideration, as additional evidences of the efficacy of

Dr. HAMILTON's MEDICINES,

Most Disorders to which the human body is liable.

RHEUMATISM.

JOHN HOOVER, Rope-maker, South Second street, between Mary and Christian streets, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath, as follows: namely, that his wife, Mary Hoover, was so severely afflicted with violent rheumatisms, very dangerously situated, the consequence of a cold after lying in, as to be confined to her bed for several weeks, and was at length reduced to the melancholy apprehension of remaining a cripple for life; notwithstanding the most respectable medical advice was followed, and every probable remedy attempted. When seeing several cases of cures performed by Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mullard, they were procured from Mr. Birch, No. 17, South Second street. The first application enabled her to walk across the room, and the use of one bottle restored her to her usual state of health and strength.

JOHN HOOVER.

Sworn and subscribed to the 25th day of March, 1800, before Ebenezer Ferguson, Esq. one of the Justices of the Peace for Philadelphia county.

DANGEROUS COLD.

DAVID GILBERT, Toyman, No. 46, South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath, as follows: namely, that about eight months ago, he caught a severe cold, which resisted every remedy he could think of, and produced the most alarming effects; he could procure no rest for incessant coughing, nor breathe without great pain and difficulty, and was finally so exhausted, as to be scarcely able to walk about, which left his friends little hopes of his recovery, though the prescriptions of a respectable physician were constantly attended to. In this situation hearing of the efficacy of Hamilton's Elixir, a bottle was procured from Mr. Birch, No 17, South Second street; the first dose of which afforded the most surprising relief, and gave him more ease than he had enjoyed during the whole of the above period, and before the contents of one bottle were taken, he was perfectly cured, his strength and appetite recovered, and not a symptom of his former distressing complaints remained.

The above particulars the said David Gilbert wishes to be made public, as a testimony of his gratitude, and for the benefit of mankind.

DAVID GILBERT.

Sworn and subscribed before me the 24th day of March, 1800.

JOHN JENNINGS, Alderman.

TO PARENTS

Who may have Children afflicted with the Hooping Cough,

This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable—The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

WORMS.

A daughter of Mr. Ewing Wiley, No. 109, Cedar street, Philadelphia, was dreadfully afflicted with worms, insomuch that her life was with great reason despaired of; her complexion faded and grew pale and sallow; her eyes sunken; her appetite was lost, and succeeded by a painful and constant sickness at the stomach; which general wasting and debility was accompanied with every appearance of a dangerous fever. From this deplorable situation she was relieved, and restored to a state of perfect health and strength in a few days, by the use of Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which expelled a great number of large pointed worms, from six to nine or twelve inches in length; one of which being a most extraordinary thickness, (supposed from half an inch to an inch in diameter) was opened and found to contain a quantity of young ones

The above is communicated by Mr. Wiley, believing its perusal may be useful to many, by extending the knowledge of a medicine which merits universal attention: But this testimony is only a corroboration of the evidence of MORE THAN FIFTY THOUSAND persons of all ages, who have, within twenty months past, been cured by this medicine, with the utmost ease and safety, of various complaints, arising from worms and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution; the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive intemperance; the unskilful or excessive use of mercury; the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life; bad lyings in, &c.

And is proved by long and extensive experience to be absolutely unparalelled in the cure of nervous disorders, consumptions, lowness of spirits, loss of appetite, impurity of the blood, hysterical affections, inward weaknesses, violent cramps in the stomach and back, indigestion, melancholy, gout in the stomach, pains in the limbs, relaxations, involuntary emissions, seminal weaknesses, obstinate gleets, fluor albus (or whites) impotency, barrenness, &c.

This medicine is perfectly different in its qualities and operation from those hot and irritating drugs so frequently proposed for similar purposes, and which only recommend themselves by the dangerous rapidity of their effects, and which, acting as a temporary but violent stimulus on the nervous system, infallibly produce greater evils than those they are intended to remove.

The principal operation of this remedy is in the stomach, restoring the digestive powers, and sending from that organ new health, and vigour into every part of the system. It enriches and purifies the blood without inflaming it; brace, without stimulating too violently the nervous system; strengthens the secretory vessels and the general habit; brings back the muscular fibres to their natural and healthy tone; and restores that nutrition which immoderate evacuations, have destroyed, and whose loss had thrown the whole frame into langor and debility.

The Restorative is absolutely above all recommendation, in removing those weaknesses and infirmities with which many females are afflicted, the consequences of difficult and painful labours, or of injudicious treatment therein.

The most obstinate seminal gleets; and the most distressing cases of fleur albus in females falls particularly under the province of this restorative; speedily yield to its benign operation, and are radically cured, by correcting and purifying the acrimonious humors, restoring a proper degree of tension to the relaxed fibres, and strengthening the weakened organs.

In cases of extremity where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease has brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair, a perseverence in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

The grand restorative is prepared in pills as well as in a fluid form, which assists confiderably in producing a gradual and lasting effect. Their virtues remain unimpaired for years in any climate.

Dr. Hahn's true and genuine

GERMAN CORN PLAISTER,

The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding that natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth, improving the complexion and restoring the bloom of youth, never failing to render an ordinary countenance beautiful, and an handsome one more so.

The Damask Lip Salve

Warranted an infallible and immediate cure at once using; being the most speedy, effectual and pleasant remedy ever offered to the public, and for the satisfaction of the timorous, the proprietor maketh oath, that this ointment does not contain a single particle of mercury or any other pernicious ingredient in its composition, and may be used with the most perfect safety by pregnant women, and on infants newly born. Price 3-4ths of a dollar each box.

Patent Indian Vegetable Specific,

For the cure of Venereal complaints of every description: An extensive trial of near four years, has proved the Vegetable Specific to be effectual in expelling the venereal virus, however deeply rooted in the constitution, and has restored health to many who have been brought to the brink of the grave by the improper administration of mercury.

Within this period upwards of eight thousand patients have experienced its salutary effects.

With the medicine is given, a description of the symptoms which obtain in every stage of the disease with copious directions for their treatment, so as to accomplish a perfect cure in the shortest time, and with the least inconvenience possible.

Infallible ague and fever drops.

A long eulogium on the virtues of this medicine is unnecessary, as the money will be returned if the patient is not relieved, it never having failed in many thousand cases, not one in a hundred has had occasion to take more than a bottle and numbers not half a bottle.

Dr. Hahn's celebrated Anti-Bilious Pill's.

Which have been uniformly successful in the cure of bilious and malignant fevers, and in all disorders of the head, stomach and bowels.

MAP OF NEW-JERSEY.

THE commissioners appointed for the purpose of circulating subscription papers, to the proposed plan of procuring an accurate Map of New-Jersey, immediately after their appointment transmitted printed copies of the plan to various persons in the several counties of this state, and in the cities of New York and Philadelphia, and since that time, through the medium of the public prints, have requested the gentlemen entrusted with those papers, to return the number of subscribers by them respectively procured, to James Salter, Esq. at Trenton, on or before the 6th day of February last. The number of subscriptions received, not amounting to two thousand, the commissioners did not conceive themselves authorized to fix a day for the meeting of the company; nevertheless being of opinion from respectable information, that the actual subscriptions are nearly, if not fully, adequate to the complete organization of the company, if they could be ascertained by regular returns, and being convinced that a trifling degree of exertion, on the part of the persons holding the subscription lists, would enable them to carry the intention of the subscribers into effect, they have by the unanimous advice and consent of the subscribers, whom they have been able to consult, fixed on the 14th day of May next, being the 2d day of the sitting of the supreme court, for a meeting of the subscribers at 11 o'clock in the forenoon at the State House in Trenton, for the purpose of electing five Trustees and a Treasurer, if the number of subscriptions should be sufficient, or in any event to determine on the measures necessary to secure the attainment of an object so useful to the state.

From the universal approbation exhibited by their fellow-citizens, at the commencement of this undertaking, it was to be expected that the subscriptions returned would have ensured its immediate execution, and the commissioners are persuaded if proper attention is paid to the procuring of subscriptions, to their punctual return at the time fixed for the meeting, and to the attendance of the subscribers, either in person or by proxy, that no farther delay will take place in commencing the operations of the company, in time for their execution during the course of the ensuing summer.
